

What is drawing?

1. Find two different definitions for the word drawing. Reference where you found these and discuss if you agree with them or not.
2. Write your own definition for what you think drawing is. Explain why you have defined drawing as this and how it differs from the definitions you have found.
3. Collect four examples of artists' work who draw using different techniques. E.g. abstract, just line, detailed etc. Include their full name and date of the work and explain why you chose them.
4. Write a minimum of 500 words about what you think drawing is You could discuss the following: Does drawing have to represent something? Can you draw with anything or just art materials? What makes a good drawing? You could discuss the artists' work and why you chose it. You could discuss the variety of different drawing styles within Art and what these mean to you.

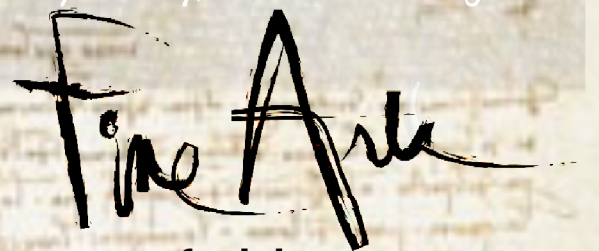

Until we can insert a USB into our ear and download our thoughts, drawing remains the best way of getting visual information on to the page.

Drawing by David Shrigley

Grayson Perry, Turner Prize-winning artist

<https://fineartasfc.blogspot.com>